HISTORY

Subject was turned over to ZEMA by Col. Maher, 51, Amsterdam on 11 May 45. He has been interrogated numerous times since that date by members of this Unit, but we have never been apprised of his mission, if any, or his general disposition. Our repeated efforts to obtain a satisfactory answer from either ELIAS or SAUER, London on this case have met with no success. An investigation from Capt. Helms, an uncontacted source, advised on 13 June 45 that ELIAS over to the French authorities on 24 hours without we presented an statement to the contrary. This elicited a response from London to the effect that because of West's interest in the case, we were to hold subject a while longer.

ZEMA'S STORY

At the present time we are hoping that something finally will be done to turn subject over to our hands. He is rapidly becoming an embarrassment and shows definite signs of mental strain. It is our opinion that if he is allowed to negotiate much longer without giving his at least an idea as to why he is being held and what is expected of him, he will soon be completely incapable of handling any mission.
